DETAILED ACTION

1. This communication is in response to the appeal brief filed 15 September 2003.

Response to Appeal Brief

2. In view of the appeal filed on 15 September 2003, PROSECUTION IS HEREBY REOPENED. The new ground of rejection is set forth below.

To avoid abandonment of the application, appellant must exercise one of the following two options:

(1) file a reply under 37 CFR 1.111 (if this Office action is non-final) or a reply under 37 CFR 1.113 (if this Office action is final); or,

(2) request reinstatement of the appeal.

If reinstatement of the appeal is requested, such request must be accompanied by a supplemental appeal brief, but no new amendments, affidavits (37 CFR 1.130, 1.131 or 1.132) or other evidence are permitted. See 37 CFR 1.193(b)(2).

3. This office action is a non-final office action which renders the prior final action moot.

Information Disclosure Statement

4. The reference(s) cited in the Search Report mailed 5/25/2005 have been considered, but will not be listed on any patent resulting from this application because they were not provided on a separate list in compliance with 37 CFR 1.98(a)(1). In order to have the references printed on such resulting patent, a separate listing, preferably on a PTO/SB/08A and 08B form, must be filed within the set period for reply to this Office action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

5. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 1-22 are rejected because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. Exemplary claim 1 is analyzed. This analysis applies to all pending claims.

Claim 1 is inoperative and therefore lacks utility.

Claim 1 merely recites elements of an apparatus or a system without showing any functionality of and interrelationship among the recited elements and therefore is rendered inoperative lacking any utility. The recited elements of the system (simulated fleet configuration unit, reporting and analysis module and communication interface) do not impart any functionality or utility and as such the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

7. Claims 1, 2 and 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being anticipated by Pisula et al. (WO 99/06934) (hereafter Pisula).

8. Per claims 1 and 2 Pisula recites an electronic system for modeling a simulated fleet which comprises a simulated fleet configuration unit (Fig 4 and 5, p. 6 a fleet updating feature which provides the user to add equipment from their pools), a reporting and analysis module (see p.6 inventory reports) and a communication interface to facilitate electronic remote access (the Pisula system is implemented and accessible over the Internet see p. 2).

Art Unit: 3624

9. Per claim 2 the simulated fleet configuration unit comprises at least the fleet builder module including a step-by-step entry system (Fig. 5, p. 6, L 15+).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

10. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

11. Claim 22 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Pisula.

12. Per claim 1 Pisula disclose all limitations of the instant claim except that it fails to teach the fleet (pool) and assets in the context of simulated assets and simulated fleet.

However these differences are only found in the nonfunctional descriptive material and are not functionally involved in the structure recited. The functionality of the configuration unit and the reporting and analysis module are not dependent upon whether the fleet and/or the assets are "simulated" or not. Thus, this descriptive material will not distinguish the claimed invention from the prior art in terms of patentability, see In re Gulack, 703 F.2d 1381, 1385, 217 USPQ 401, 404. (Fed. Cir. 1983), In re Lowry, 32 F.3d 1579, 32 USPQ2d 1031 (Fed. Cir. 1994).

Art Unit: 3624

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the claimed invention to have a system of modeling a simulated fleet in accordance with the instant claim from Pisula disclosure.

This rejection may be overcome by further defining elements "simulated fleet" and "simulated asset" from those conventionally used in the art.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
